Camp Explore is seeking a Camp Cook to prepare healthy meals & snacks for our campers and staff. Our Camp Cook absolutely loves spreading happiness in every brownbag meal. Counting, sorting and storing food is never a dull task for the cook.

A Day in the Life of a Camp Counselor:

- Count and pack 100 lunches for the trail
- Stir a big pot of Gatorade for beach day
- Balance driving 2 grocery carts at Costco
- Lead a hike through the Tahoe Meadows
- Roast an innumerable amount of marshmallows over the campfire
- Pop 20 bags of popcorn for the day

This might be for you if:

You are the type of person who loves to rise early and start your day with a math puzzle; counting out loaves of bread, calculating serving sizes and adding fractions to get the correct ratio of Gatorade powder to water. You do not get flustered easily if you miscounted bread tops and have left over bottoms. You get a chill of excitement when BBQ's are coming up and are expected to prepare 80 burgers and s'mores in the mad rush of a couple of minutes.

You are not intimidated by hungry campers or much less by starving counselors; which you know you will never encounter because you are impressively talented at managing your time and bust out lunch faster than a kid can say "I'm hungry."

You enjoy making lists and even better get a kick out of checking off a 100 list long of grocery items. Maneuvering a train of grocery carts at Costco is like a skip through the park for you. Most importantly, you are a deal hunter and make it your utmost important task to stay below budget and still produce a healthy camp menu. Everyone wonders and envies just how do you do it; feeding a full camp lunch and snacks and still have time to lead a hike for the day.

You've Got:

- First Aid & CPR Certification
- Valid Driver's License & Transportation
- Food Safety & Handling Knowledge
- Outdoor Cooking Skills

Extra Awesome:

- Experience working in the kitchen
- Hardworking & Un-ending energy
- Knowledge of Healthy foods & snacks
- Time Management Skilled
